

India | Year-End 2024

Delhi-NCR Residential Market Watch

In this report, we focus on the premium residential segment.

ECONOMY ROUND-UP

- India's GDP growth slowed significantly to 5.4% in July-September FY 2024-2025, marking the lowest growth rate in seven quarters. RBI lowered its real GDP growth projection for FY 2024-25 to 6.6% from the earlier estimate of 7.2%.
- As of October 2024, India's headline inflation rate has risen to 6.21% marking the highest inflation rate in over a year, significantly exceeding market expectations.
- RBI has maintained its repo rate at 6.5% for the 11th consecutive time, citing concerns over inflation and the uncertain global growth outlook. This monetary policy stance aims to foster consumer confidence across various sectors, despite the challenges posed by rising prices.

REGULATORY ANNOUNCEMENTS IN DELHI-NCR

- The Haryana Government increased the circle rates from 10% to 30% effective December 1, 2024 that will remain in place till March 31, 2025.
- The Department of Town and Country Planning (DTCP), Haryana, has raised Floor Area Ratio (FAR) rates by approximately 20%. For plots sized 250-350 sq. m, the new rate is Rs 4,500 per sq. m, a 19% increase from Rs 3,770. For plots between 350-450 sq. m, the rate has risen 21% to Rs 6,500 per sq. m, up from Rs 5,380. For plots over 500 sq. m, the rate surged 24%, from Rs 8,070 to Rs 10,000 per sq. m.
- The NOIDA Authority has made it mandatory for a tripartite sale agreement to be signed between the buyer, builder and the authority once the builder receives 10% of the flat price from the buyer. This is a significant move aimed at enhancing consumer protection and ensuring stronger regulatory oversight.

- The increase in average capital values of luxury floors in Delhi moderated to 9% YOY at the city level in 2024. Higher construction and land acquisition costs, along with the strong demand for spacious floors with terrace, were the key drivers behind this price rise.
- South Delhi continues to be the most sought-after location for prospective homebuyers, primarily due to its strategic location, well-established infrastructure and proximity to major business hubs and amenities. High demand, coupled with limited availability of new ready-to-move inventory, has driven up floor prices in various pockets of this region. In particular, the South Central micromarket has seen the highest growth, with independent floor prices rising by 13% YOY. This increase is largely attributed to the scarcity of properties in prime areas such as Defence Colony, Anand Lok, and Panchsheel Park, where spacious homes are in high demand. Following closely, the South West and South East micromarkets also recorded notable growth, with a 12% YOY increase in floor prices.

- The rise in average capital values of plots in Delhi remained relatively moderate in 2024, especially when compared to the significant 23% annual increase observed in 2023. Delhi witnessed an overall increase of 4% in average capital values of plots, indicating a more stabilised growth pattern. Among the micromarkets, the South West and South Central regions experienced the most notable gains, with plot values rising by 8% and 6% YOY, respectively. The South East micromarket recorded a 4% YOY increase in plot values, continuing its steady growth trajectory.
- With the launch of 1,330 new luxury apartments, the city saw more than a fourfold increase in residential apartment launches in 2024 compared to 2023.

- The average capital values of properties in Gurugram continued to witness robust growth in 2024. Completed properties experienced a 20% rise in quoted capital values, while under-construction properties reached a new peak, with average capital values rising by 25% YOY at the city level.
- New Gurugram remains the top-performing micromarket for under-construction properties, recording the highest annual appreciation of 55% in average capital values. This highlights the growing prominence of this dynamic micromarket, which boasts excellent connectivity, well-planned infrastructure, and a range of diverse housing options for both end-users and investors. Golf Course Road and Dwarka Expressway, with YOY increases of 22% and 16% respectively, also saw strong growth in average capital values for under-construction properties.
- Golf Course Road led the market for ready-to-move properties, recording a 24% YOY increase in average capital values. This was followed by New Gurugram and the GCER & SPR micromarkets, which saw YOY increases of 21% and 19%, respectively, in the quoted capital values of completed properties.

- The luxury residential market in Gurugram continues to experience a strong upward trend, reflecting the city's growing prominence as a high-end real estate hub. In recent times, Gurugram has seen record-breaking transactions that set new benchmarks for residential properties, further solidifying its status in the luxury segment. Developers are not only focusing on constructing opulent buildings and lavish apartments but are also placing emphasis on creating a lifestyle that seamlessly blends grandeur with sustainability. From state-of-the-art amenities to eco-friendly designs, these luxury projects are designed to cater to discerning buyers who seek both elegance and environmental consciousness, making Gurugram a prime destination for upscale living.

- The average capital values of residential plots in Gurugram registered an increase of 22% YOY in 2024 at the city level.
- The Dwarka Expressway micromarket sustained its momentum in 2024, recording an impressive 27% YOY growth in average capital values, similar to the trend seen in 2023. This robust appreciation can largely be attributed to improved connectivity, with the completion of critical infrastructure projects boosting accessibility to key parts of the city. As core micromarkets become increasingly saturated, the preference for suburban areas like Dwarka Expressway has grown. These areas offer spacious and comfortable living environments at relatively more affordable rates, attracting both end-users and investors.
- GCER & SPR and New Gurugram micromarkets witnessed a remarkable 25% YOY growth in average land prices, followed by Golf Course Road, which saw an 11% annual increase.

- Average capital values of completed and under-construction properties in NOIDA increased in the range of 1%-24% on an annual basis across micromarkets.
- The NOIDA-Greater NOIDA Expressway and NOIDA Others micromarkets saw the highest growth in capital values for completed properties, registering a 24% YOY increase.
- NOIDA Others, with a 16% YOY increase, remains the top-performing market for the under construction properties. The NOIDA-Greater NOIDA Expressway micromarket follows closely, securing the second position with a 12% YOY increase.
- The growth of capital values for both completed and under-construction properties in the NOIDA-Greater NOIDA Expressway micromarket has been particularly remarkable in recent years. This sustained upward trend underscores the rising popularity of the micromarket, fueled by enhanced connectivity to key areas, and an increasing demand for premium residential options. The strategic location, proximity to major business hubs, and availability of modern amenities have made it an attractive destination for homebuyers and investors alike. With continued development and the launch of new projects, the micromarket is well-positioned to attract further interest, making it a hotspot for long-term value appreciation.

OUTLOOK FOR 2025

- The luxury residential market in Delhi-NCR is poised for continued growth in 2025, building on the strong momentum seen in recent years. High-net-worth individuals (HNIs) and non-resident Indians (NRIs) are expected to continue driving demand for luxury properties in prime locations across the region.
- With strong demand and limited supply of luxury properties, areas such as South and Central Delhi, Golf Course Road, and parts of NOIDA will likely experience substantial price growth in 2025. Favourable government policies and potential changes in taxation rules may further stimulate demand for luxury properties.
- Investors will continue to view the luxury residential market as a stable asset class. Properties in prime locations are expected to offer long-term appreciation, making them attractive for wealth preservation and portfolio diversification.
- In summary, the luxury residential market in Delhi-NCR is set for steady growth in 2025, driven by demand from affluent buyers, strategic micromarket development, and evolving lifestyle preferences. Developers will focus on enhancing value propositions by incorporating wellness, sustainability, and smart technology into their offerings, catering to the evolving needs of the luxury homebuyers.
